GIVES THE PALM TO VICTORIA

Bishop Montgomery Says Beauties Here Surpass Those of Tasmania

CHAT WITH HIS LORDSHIP

Scope of Work of English Churches in Canada Being Much Enlarged

THE Right Rev. Henry Hutchinson Montgomery, secretary of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign parts, which practically founded the Anglican church in British Columbia, who is visiting His Lordship Bishop Perrin, was interviewed yesterday by a reporter of the Colonist and he spoke interestingly of his impressions of Victoria, and of the Dominion of Canada. He was greatly impressed with Victoria and British Columbia, so much so that he has decided to have his son come to this province to take up his life's work, to enter the profession of the law in British Columbia. As for Victoria, His Lordship spoke enthusiastically; he said he had always regarded Hobart, Tasmania, where he spent so many years of his life, as the most beautiful place he had ever seen, but now he must needs Give the Palm to Victoria and to British Columbia, for the beauties of this part of the world exceed those of his beloved Tasmania—here it seemed that it was Tasmania magnified and improved. He could give no higher praise.

His Lordship, who was called from his bishopric in Tasmania to become the superintendent of the missionary work of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign parts, said: "My journey over the C. P. R. across Canada, was charming and also wonderful. What shall I say of my impressions? I passed through so many phases of life during the journey that I was enchanted. It was, say, like a journey beginning in France, passing through the United States, and ending in England."

"What strikes me about British Columbia, and especially Victoria, is its great likeness to Tasmania, and more particularly to Hobart. While in the streets walking about it struck me as how like the place I loved so much, and where I spent so much of my life, was this city of Victoria. On the whole the scenery about both Vancouver and Victoria is finer than that of Hobart. The mountains, one sees here, are a little higher. It's a sort of magnified Tasmania."

"I cannot say more or give it higher praise than this. I had thought Hobart the most beautiful spot on earth until I had seen Victoria."

"I had been going to make up my mind where to put one of my sons in Canada to take up his life work, following the profession of law, and have come to the conclusion that

B. C. is the Best Place for Him to come to. I have just finished my journey and am going home tomorrow."

"The object of my journey? I have been traveling in the interest of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel. This is the oldest mission society of the Church of England, and it has been helping Canada for two hundred years. The other day one of our Canadian churchmen calculated that we had given the church in Canada ten millions of dollars, at the least. So, we haven't only late discovered Canada. All this, no doubt, has been chiefly spent in the eastern parts of Canada. Now we are turning our attention to the West, especially about Saskatchewan."

"This year we have given £20,000 sterling to the West as a present. That sum has not yet been appropriated, and I thought I should like to come to visit the bishops before the money was appropriated. Our custom is to give the money to the bishops, and all distribution of the money is left to them."

"Will British Columbia be benefited by the grant?" asked the interviewer.

"I cannot enter into the discussion of that question," replied His Lordship.

"The Church Mission society is another missionary organization which has done a great deal of work in Canada," continued His Lordship, but this society works only among the non-Christian element; our first plan all along has been to assist our people in the colonies.

The Church in the United States has been good enough to say we founded it, and the same is true of South Africa and Australia. Of course the church becomes independent of the society in course of time. For example we are withdrawing our grants to eastern Canada by definite sums in furtherance of a scheme arranged to that end. In the West, though, there is need for the society's grants. In my own opinion we ought to increase the grants to the West, especially to the prairie districts.

It has been five years since I left Hobart. I finally left Hobart in 1901, not by my own will, but because of the wish of the church that I should come home to England to become superintendent of the missions. I had meant to spend my life in Tasmania."

His Lordship the Bishop of Tasmania (although devoting himself to the mission work he is still holder of the bishopric) was born in 1847, and after being ordained in 1871, spent several years as curate in St. Margaret's Westminster, under the late Dean Jarvis whose daughter he married in 1881. Subsequent to this he became vicar of St. Mark's, Kensington, resigning upon elevation to the bishopric of Tasmania in 1889. In this position he remained until 1901 when he assumed his present position.

The sermon at Christ Church cathedral on Sunday morning was preached by the visiting divine, being an earnest missionary discourse. Many of the arguments often heard in objection to missionary work were convincingly answered. It is frequently objected that it is an impertinence on the part of an Anglo-Saxon to try to teach the older and more spiritual races of India and China. The answer given was—should the good news in the possession of an inferior man be withheld from a man superior in intellect and perhaps in moral life because he is superior. It is objected that in certain cases a thousand converts are made for a thousand pounds whilst elsewhere a thousand pounds will only make one convert and stated that money and effort should be spent where it produces the most results.

In telling of the parable of the building of a railway in India the bishop asked if the road builder pointed with the greatest pride to that portion of the road which was the easiest to build. Throughout the sermon the bishop spoke as one who had served with such men as Patterson and Selwin and not the least of the impressions he left on his hearers was that the work of handing on the good news imperative upon the race, and that there were men left to do it as the two great Christian fighters did.

Last night an interesting missionary address was delivered at A. O. U. W. hall. This morning the visitor will leave by the steamer Princess Victoria on his return journey.

PRESIDENT PALMA ADOPTS OFFENSIVE

And Sternly Revokes All Amnesties and Propositions of Peace

HAVANA, Sept. 10.—President Palma tonight decreed the suspension of all constitutional guarantees and revoked all offers of amnesty. Many liberal leaders are being arrested.

For a while tonight the prospect for peace looked decidedly more hopeful as the result of the arrival here of one of the peace commissions which had visited the insurgent leader with the avowal that Guerra had formally consented to a suspension of hostilities pending negotiations. But within an hour it became known that at a special meeting of the cabinet tonight it had been decided to declare all peace projects off. It was agreed that the government could not consider the proposition of the Liberals that President Palma, the vice-president and members of the cabinet shall all resign and that a new general election shall be held.

The law enforcing public order, which is equivalent to martial law, is put in immediate effect in the three provinces of Pinar Del Rio, Havana and Santa Clara. A supplemental decree has been issued suspending the decree of August 28, concerning important rebels and ordering that Liberals be brought back and jailed. Both decrees have been communicated to all officers in the district.

Tonight the government also ordered the arrest of practically every prominent Liberal. Alfredo Zayas, president of the liberal party, and several others have disappeared. Among other Liberals arrested are Congressmen Florencio Villaverde, Rodes and Yronos.

When the news of the issuance of these decrees reached the Veterans' Peace committee, which was in session at the home of General Menocal, there was an interesting denunciation of President Palma and other members of the government.

Thirty-nine Collieries Resume Work After a Long Idleness.

Mahoney City, Pa., Sept. 10.—After being idle since September 1, the thirty-nine collieries of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company employing 30,000 men and boys resumed work today.

SONGHEES INDIAN RESERVATION

Probability of Arrangement to Transfer the Indians to Another Spot

PROVINCIAL PREMIERS MEET

October 18, at Ottawa—The Capital's Fiftieth Birthday Celebration

OTTAWA, Sept. 10.—(Special).—Frank Pedley, Deputy Minister of Indian Affairs, left for Victoria tonight to endeavor to arrange for the transfer of the Songhees Indians, of Victoria to another reservation.

Mr. Pedley will confer with the Minister of Inland Revenue, Hon. Mr. Templeman, with a view of settling this longstanding question while the minister is on the ground. It is understood that an arrangement has been arrived at, and that the visit of the deputy minister is merely to arrange the details.

Provincial Premiers' Meeting
A conference of the provincial premiers with the Dominion government will take place in Ottawa on October 18th.

Notices to this effect have been sent the different premiers of the provinces. All the provinces will be represented.

Ottawa's Birthday

Sir Wilfrid Laurier opened the Canadian fair today. In an address presented to him by the president of the fair he suggested that next year the exhibition should get the Dominion government grant of $50,000, which this year goes to Halifax and last year was given to New Westminster. This would be a fitting time, as next year will be the 50th anniversary of the selection of Ottawa as the capital and the 40th year of Canadian federation.

Adulterated Maple Syrup
An analysis of maple syrup and syrup shows that out of 85 samples submitted to the government analysis only 22 were found to be composed of the genuine article.

Sir Wilfrid Hasn't Seen Victoria

Over 15,000 persons visited the fair today, a splendid start for the first day. The Governor fair today. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in his opening address, "jollied" the audience immensely. He said that ten years ago, by the grace of God, and the will of the people, he was compelled to take up his abode in Ottawa, and he had long ago realized how pure and bracing the atmosphere of Ottawa was. He spoke of the great good of exhibitions and said that as regards a building Toronto must be accorded the palm, but Ottawa, he believed, possessed the best grounds in the Dominion. He urged the directors to continue to improve them. He believed he was within mark, when he said there was no other city in the world, except perhaps Quebec, for which nature had done so much as Ottawa. The probabilities were great for making it the finest city on the continent, if not in the world. He had seen some of the great cities of the world, London, Paris, Rome, Washington and perhaps Ottawa would not compare with them in many respects, the capital of Canada would certainly compare with those cities in all that which nature had done for her.

Toronto Defaulter Located

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 10.—H. W. Brick, who left some weeks ago, a defaulter to the extent of forty and five thousand dollars from the Henry Wainwright company, is said to be in Japan and his arrest expected daily. In addition to his shortage with the company by whom he was employed, Brick is said to be indebted to the Toronto Baseball club, of which he was secretary-treasurer last season, to the sum of $3,000.

Ministerial Changes

Hamilton, Ont., Sept. 10.—Rev. Thos. George, rector of St. Peter's church, died last night.

Vancouver, Ont., Sept. 10.—Rev. Canon Farin, rector of the New St. Paul church, this city, has resigned to become rector of St. George's cathedral, Kingston.

A Hundred Thousand Fire

Lacombe, Alta., Sept. 10.—A serious conflagration occurred Saturday in the downtown business portion of Lacombe which consumed over a dozen places of business. It is estimated that the property and stock burned will amount to between $75,000 and $100,000. The amount of insurance carried on buildings and stock cannot be obtained at present.

Immense Binder Twine Trade

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 10.—On one of his trips of investigation into the binder twine industry, J. L. Haycock, binder twine inspector for the Dominion government, stated that never before had such a quantity of binder twine been used in Canada as this present year. The sales to the farmers totalled $4,000,000, over $500,000 more than last year's sales. Of this amount 10,000 tons were brought into the country by the International Harvester company, 6,000 tons were made in Canada, and 500 tons shipped into the country from England.

Congress of Americanists

Quebec, Sept. 10.—The fifteenth annual congress of Americanists opened this morning at the parliament house in the presence of a distinguished company of ladies and gentlemen, including priests and scholars and about sixty delegates from all parts of North and South America, and from different countries of Europe and Mexico. Dr. Robert Bell, chief of the Dominion geological survey, presided.

The congress was opened by a speech of welcome delivered by the lieutenant governor, followed by Hon. Lomer Gouin and Mayor Garmen, who also welcomed the delegates in happy speeches to the cradle of Americanists in Canada and the city of Champlain. Dr. Bell, president, and Manager Ladaume, vice president, responded.

Quebec By-Elections

Montreal, Sept. 10.—Nominations for the by-election for the Quebec legislature, rendered necessary by the recent changes in the cabinet, were held today in Argenteuil and Brome counties. In Argenteuil, Hon. W. A. Welby, minister of public works, was returned by acclamation. In Brome, W. P. Vilas, Independent Liberal, was elected by acclamation for the vacancy caused by the elevation of Hon. J. C. McConkville provincial treasurer, to the bench.

RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT REGRETS

The Attack on a Vice-Consul of Great Britain at Baku.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 10.—The British embassy has received from the foreign office expressions of the government's regret for the attack in Baku, September 8th, upon Leslie Urquhart, the British vice consul, and assurances that everything would be done to discover and punish the perpetrators of the act.

HOT BLOOD FLOWS FOR TRIFLES.

Two Officials of King Alfonso Fight With Sabres.

San Sebastian, Sept. 10.—As the result of a violent scene over a trifle at the Hotel Palais, the Marquis Viana, King Alfonso's master of horse, and the Duke of Andria fought a duel with sabres at dawn yesterday. The Marquis received a cut on the head and the seconds stopped the fight. Previous to the encounter the Marquis handed his resignation to the King. The seconds were all well known members of King Alfonso's retinue.

WESTERN LUMBER MAY GO UP

As the Result of Closing Out an Eastern Variety.

Macon, Ga., Sept. 10.—At a conference of lumbermen in this city yesterday, it was declared that the ruling out of short leaf pine lumber in northern and eastern cities had caused millions of feet of lumber to be piled up in those cities, unsaleable even at $3 to $5 per thousand feet under regular prices and that as a consequence at least a thousand mills in Georgia, Alabama and Florida are affected and many of them may close unless there is a reversal of the ruling.

THE SCAPEGOAT OF RUSSIAN LAWLESSNESS

Police and Soldiers Drunk With Lust For Blood, Murder at Will

SIEDLICE, Russia, Sept. 10.—A massacre by police and soldiers began here at 8 o'clock Saturday night. Immediately afterwards the troops attacked the Jews. All today troops have attacked civilians, Christians or Jews, robbing and murdering them without discrimination. Hundreds of persons were killed or wounded, and three streets devastated. Troops have surrounded the city and refused admission to it.

Jews in a Panic

Warsaw, Sept. 10.—In consequence of the massacre of Jews in Siedlice, the Jews here are panic-stricken. Alarming reports are being circulated throughout the city.

Indiscriminate Slaughter

St. Petersburg, Sept. 10.—The predictions made in a despatch of August 23 of a Jewish massacre at Siedlice, Russian Poland, unhappily have been justified by the fighting which broke out Saturday night and developed yesterday into a carnival of indiscriminate slaughter and pillage, in which the soldiers and mob took part. Unfortunate Jews were shot and bayoneted in the streets of the town. Houses and shops were broken into and sacked; valuables were carried off and offered for sale by soldiers to passengers on passing trains.

In addition to the Jews, a number of Christians and even some officers met death in the fighting. The number of victims has not yet been ascertained, but a conservative estimate places it at 140.

The Jewish fugitives who thronged the railroad station at Siedlice are in a state of panic.

Reports received here from Warsaw and other towns in the vicinity of Siedlice place the number of victims at several hundred.

The early reports of the Siedlice massacre put the responsibility at the door of the terrorists, but fugitives declare that the soldiers never would have been allowed to get so completely out of hand without the connivance or the actual directions of their officers.

The first reports received of the Bialystok massacre last June said the terrorists were to blame there also.

It is difficult to obtain details of the trouble at Siedlice, as the town was surrounded yesterday by soldiers and nobody was allowed to enter. Passengers, however, who arrived at Warsaw during the night gave the following account of the slaughter:

After the murder of a policeman by the terrorists on Saturday night and the firing of a volley by the troops into the assembled crowd, which resulted in the killing of two citizens and wounding of many more, the terrorists held a meeting and decided to exact ven-

JUDGMENT IN CHEHALIS CASE

But For the Tide Princess Victoria Would Have Cleared Chehalis

TWO WHISTLES WERE BLOWN

Rugby Footballers Are Invited to Play Stanford University Team

VANCOUVER, Sept. 10.—The written judgment in the Chehalis disaster was handed down this morning. It gives reasons for the verbal decision already arrived at. The commission finds that Captain Griffin blew two whistles, and that, had not the speed of the Princess Victoria been reduced by the tide, she would have passed clear of the Chehalis. It finds that the whole blame lay with the Princess Victoria in disregarding the gasoline launch until dangerously near, and also in seeming to forget for a vital moment that the Chehalis existed.

Stabbing Affray on Board Ship

In a dispute on the steamer Cassiar as she was on her way north on Saturday night a Japanese fisherman named Yamoto stabbed Chief Officer Jarvis in the shoulder. Twelve stitches had to be put in the wound. The Japanese is under arrest and awaiting trial.

Runaway Horses Come to Grief

A team of runaway horses belonging to a Chinese vegetable pedlar collided with a telephone pole at the corner of Granville and Hastings streets this morning. One of the horses had its brains dashed out, and the other had a broken leg and had to be killed immediately afterwards.

Invitation from California

The local Rugby Football club has received an invitation from Stanford University, California, to play a match at Palo Alto on October 27th. That date is rather earlier than was expected, but there is little doubt that a team will be sent.

OPINIONS OF THE BOAT RACE.

Merits of the Respective Crews Viewed in the After Light.

London, Sept. 10.—All the morning newspapers devote much space to reporting, commenting and editorializing on the Harvard-Cambridge boat race and while glorying in the sustained prestige of Englishship they paid high tribute to Harvard's pluck and sportsmanship.

The Daily Mail says the Americans proved gallant losers and merited the universal admiration they received, adding: "It is pleasant to discover that there are some things, we on this side of the Atlantic can still hold as our own despite the steady loss of much of our best blood to the United States and the colonies."

The Daily News believes that the Cambridge victory was not so much that of men as of method and the well-known oarsman, R. B. O'Herrington Smith, writing for the Daily News, says he feels convinced that Harvard had far more latent pace in their crew than the Cambridge men and if taught by one of the few good English coaches it would be hard to find a crew to beat them.

The Daily Telegraph in an editorial article says: "It was a most fortunate coincidence, after the regrettable circumstances which led to the suggestion that Americans in the future would not be welcomed at Henley, that Harvard should have overcome it this summer and shown Englishmen that there are true amateurs in America."

Guy Nickells, in the Morning Post, finds among the lessons taught by the race that "the days of the professional coach are over, for it is self-evident that a man who has never himself rowed in a really good eight cannot possibly teach eight men how to row or how to get a boat along in a way most advantageous to themselves. Wray had under him as fine a lot of men as ever sat in an eight. We have never seen greater physical perfection in any crew yet that I have ever witnessed."

Mr. Nickells calls attention to the fact that the crew was not allowed to row themselves out in practice which is characteristic of every crew visiting England and always has fatal results. He says also that Harvard lost lengths by her boat alone. "You had only to look at her to see that she was no traveler, she was not built on traveling lines."

The foregoing are fair samples of the comments and criticisms of the race, but all the writers hope that international races will become more frequent, and that Yale will send a crew to England if she wins next year at New London.

BUILDING COLLAPSES.

New York, Sept. 10.—By the collapse today of a garage in course of construction at Minola, Long Island, three workmen were killed and seven were seriously injured. Edward Cody, a foreman who was superintending the construction of the garage, was arrested tonight by order of Coroner Ransom, but was released on bail.

RECEIVED BY THE POPE.

Rome, Sept. 10.—The Pope has received in private audience Mgr. Kennedy, rector of the American college in Rome, who presented His Holiness with ten large beautifully illustrated volumes containing a history of the charitable institutions in New York. The books were sent by Archbishop Farley.

gence by inaugurating a campaign against the police and troops, similar to the recent activity along the same lines in Warsaw.

In the course of Sunday morning
twelve patrols of soldiers were killed.
As a result of this, the Lithuanian regiment, in a state of infuriated anger, left its barracks in the afternoon and marched into the Jewish quarters, shooting right and left as it went.
The troops were joined by crowds of hooligans, who co-operated in the plundering and wantonly destroyed everything they were unable or un-desirous of carrying away.

The sale of booty by the soldiers went on under the very eyes of their officers.

At a late hour in the afternoon the Kaluga regiment arrived on a special train from Biala, and measures were instituted to put a stop to the programme. In spite of this, however, the shooting continued up to a late hour last night.

Siedlce is a town of 30,000 persons,
half of whom are Jews.

Plunder and Fire Progress

Siedlce, Russia, Sept. 10.—Six buildings in the big bazaar of the city were now in flames, adding another terror to the killing and plundering which have been going on here for the last 36 hours.

Frequent shots and occasional volleys are still heard in different parts of town, but because of the general panic it is difficult to learn accurately just what is transpiring.

As far as it is possible to learn,
there have been up to the present time about 60 persons killed and 200 wounded.

Hundreds of Jews are assembled today at the railroad station awaiting means of getting away, but the town is surrounded by troops, who do not permit exit or entrance.

Field guns are posted on the principal streets.

There seems to be no doubt that the terrorists are responsible for provoking the massacre by their fusillades from roofs and windows on Saturday against soldiers and policemen who were patrolling the streets.

Troops surrounded the houses from which this firing came and poured volleys through the windows and doors.

This was followed by a search of the premises, which soon developed into wholesale plundering and subsequently into a massacre and slaughter throughout a large portion of the town.
Almost all the Jewish places have been looted. Owners who defended their property were killed or wounded. Persons seen leaving houses or looking out of windows were shot without mercy.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 11.—(3:30 a.
m.)—Advices from Siedlce, received during the night, are to the effect that the fighting and bombardment of houses, which ceased about midday on Monday, was resumed late in the afternoon, apparently in consequence of Governor Engelke's demands that the Jewish and Polish populace deliver up to him the members of the Jewish Self-Defence Association. The Bund-ists, preferring death in the open to a tame surrender, resumed the battle.
Artillery was again brought into action. It is not known if the fighting still continues, as it is impossible to obtain full details of the events at Siedlce, because the authorities absolutely forbid all communication and turn back all correspondents.

At Rudgowska, 40 miles east of Warsaw, scenes similar to those enacted at Siedlce were witnessed. The soldiers are said to have killed forty persons.

Fugitives from Siedlce report that Governor Engelke issued an ultimatum declaring that he would bombard the whole town unless the terrorists surrendered.

In consequence of the pillage and destruction the citizens are suffering for want of food and water. The number of victims is not known, but it is placed at 100. Most of the corpses are hidden in the ruins of houses.

The town is cordoned. The railroad station, which is on the outskirts of the town, is isolated, and Jews or Poles seeking to reach the station are turned back en masse.

PLANS FOR EARL GREY'S RECEPTION

His Excellency to Reach Victoria on Friday Afternoon
Next

STREET ARCHES ARE BEING ERECTED

Decoration and Illumination of Parliament Buildings Now
in Progress

The latest despatches received at Government House from Capt. Trotter, A. D. C., to the Governor-General, are to the effect that His Excellency is progressing favorably, and will arrive at Vancouver on Wednesday evening. He will reach Victoria by the D. G. S.
Quadra on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

His Excellency will be received on landing by a guard of honor drawn from the Fifth Regiment under the command of Capt. Angus, with Lieut.
Booth and Duncan as subalterns. The regimental band will be present also.

After inspecting the guard His Excellency and party will proceed to the Government buildings. It is intended that the roadway to the buildings will be lined with school girls in white, who will throw flowers in the carriages as they pass.

If the weather is propitious there will be massed on the steps of the buildings a large number of school children and the members of the various musical societies of the city, who, led by the band, will greet Their Excellencies with patriotic songs.

Earl Grey will be met by the mayor and council and the civic address presented to him. It has also been arranged that the great grandson of the first governor of British Columbia, Master James Douglas Douglas, the little son of Ald. Douglas, will present the Countess Grey with a bouquet. This suggestion of the mayor has been acquiesced in by Mrs. Douglas and Master Douglas will perform this function.

After the formal reception to the city the vice-regal party will be driven to Government House, where they will be the guests of Hon. James Dunsinuir and Mrs. Dunsinuir during their stay in the city.

It has been arranged that a number of arches shall be put on the streets.
One will be placed at each of the entrances to the parliament grounds. This will be the work of the J. B. A. A.
There will be an arch representing the fruit and flower production of the city and district. This will be on Government street near the post office. The Chinese merchants will have an arch
at another point on Government street, and the Japanese will put up a bamboo
arch on Yates street.

With other decorations along the streets the city will present a very pretty appearance.

Friday evening will be spent quietly at Government House. It is also intended that Saturday forenoon shall be left open so that Earl Grey may have a rest.

On Saturday a launch will be taken and His Excellency will traverse the water front to Esquimalt, inspecting the forts, etc. At Rod Hill afternoon tea will be served by the officers of the Canadian forces at Esquimalt. Saturday evening will be free from all formal affairs, and on Sunday morning His Excellency and party will attend divine service at Christ Church cathedral.

On Monday an opportunity is to be afforded Earl Grey and the members of his party to see the city of Victoria.
As the guests of the mayor and aldermen they will be driven about the city probably by tally-ho.

In the evening an official dinner will be served at Government House, after which Their Excellencies will proceed to the government buildings, where, commencing at 9:30, a public reception will be held.

It has been arranged that a part of the route, including the approach to the government buildings, will be lined for the occasion by school boys bearing torches. An intimation has been received from Capt. Trotter, A. D. C., that evening dress will not be insisted upon at the reception.

During the greater part of yesterday and late into the night carpenters were still busy putting up the framework of the arches with all speed and the men of the B. C. Electric company were at work upon the government buildings fixing the lamps and wires for illuminating the same. Altogether preparations for the reception are well advanced and given favorable weather the function should be most successful.

On Tuesday Earl Grey leaves in company with Hon. James Dunsinuir on the latter's yacht Thistle on a fishing and hunting tour.

HAD AN AWFUL TIME

But Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Cured Him.

It is with pleasure that I give you this unsolicited testimonial. About a year ago when I had a very severe case of measles I got caught up in a hard run and the measles settled in my stomach and bowels.
I had an awful time and had it not been for the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, I could not have possibly lived but a few hours longer, and well, I have written the above through simple gratitude and I shall always speak a good word for this remedy.—Sam H.

REFERENDUM NOT ADVISABLE

City Engineer Instructed to Proceed With Investigations at Highland District

At last evening's meeting of the city council the city engineer was instructed to proceed with his arrangements to ascertain the precipitation and run-off from Highland district. The question of a referendum was also brought before the board, but the city engineer, through the city solicitor, recommended that it was inadvisable to take a referendum on a money bylaw, as was pointed out in Sunday's Colonist.

With the exception of Ald. Hall and Davey, all the board were present, and an effort will be made to have the former in attendance next Monday evening, in order that a decision may be reached.

The water committee presented a report providing for the expenditure of $15,000 on Elk Lake and the introduction of a bylaw to raise the sum of $195,000 for the improvement of the water system, the greater part of which can be made a part of any water scheme which the city may hereafter adopt.

The First Business

before the meeting was a communication from A. T. Goward, local manager of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company, notifying the board that it would be practically impossible to have the electric sprinkler completed in time for use this season, stating that some of the parts were only shipped from the East on August 20. Received and filed.

Hon. Mr. Justice Martin complimented Ald. Yates for his efforts to secure meters for every service in the city, in compliance with the report of Expert Adams. He stated that he could not favor any scheme not using water meters.

His Worship was of the opinion that

The city solicitor reported that the corporation had power to deal with the complaint of H. E. Newton regarding a "noisy rooster," under the provisions of the pound bylaw. Received and filed.

General Business

A communication was received from S. T. Styles and others, objecting to a concrete sidewalk being laid on the east side of Blanchard street. Referred to the city assessor.

F. Angus and several others requested that Richardson street should be opened between Cook and Moss streets.

Referred to the streets, sewers and bridges committee.

Ald. Yates moved that leave be granted to introduce a bylaw to raise the sum of $300,000 for water works purposes. Laid on the table.

The water committee reported as follows:

Water Committee's Report

Gentlemen—Your water committee beg leave to report as follows:

1. We recommend that the sum of $1,500 be voted for the purpose of immediately proceeding with the work of ascertaining the precipitation and "run off" from Highland district.

2. We strongly recommend (a) the clearing of the lakes while the water is low;
(b) the construction of a gravel bank between the V. & S. railway track and Elk lake; (c) the building of a gravel bank cutting off the little bay at the southwest corner of the passage between both lakes.

3. We further recommend the removal of the intake from present point to Elk lake;
and that provision be made for securing
the sum of $15,000 for above work.

4. In the alternative, the removal of the intake from present point to Elk lake;
and that provision be made for securing
the sum of $15,000 for above work.

5. We recommend the introduction of a by-law to borrow the sum of $195,000 for the construction of the following system:

Reservoir Smiths Hill .....$ 90,000
Elevated tank ..... 17,000
Connecting reservoir and tank ..... 20,000
Connecting reservoir and distributing system ..... 35,000
Pump on 12-inch main ..... 8,000

Clearing, etc., the lakes (if it is decided to borrow the money under the by-law) ..... 15,000
Incidental ..... 600

Debate on Report

Ald. Stewart moved the adoption of the report.
His Worship wished to know if a petition had been circulated. He suggested that if a small amount was going to be expended on Elk Lake they should include enough to fence the lake, stating that Building Inspector Northcott reported that it could be done for $656.

Ald. Fell said that the fence could be included in the estimate submitted by the committee. It was not the intention of the committee to have a bylaw passed for the improvements that were mentioned, but that it could be taken from the revenue of the water works department. He did not think it was right to take the revenue from the water works and spend it on the streets.

The report was laid on the table.
Ald. Fullerton was of the opinion that the city engineer should be instructed to proceed with his arrangements to ascertain the rainfall at Highland district.

The report was taken from the table on motion of Ald. Fell, and he also moved that Section 1 be adopted.

Ald. Douglas wished to know if the report was on the advice of Expert Adams.

Section 1 was adopted unanimously.
Ald. Douglas was in favor of having a fence erected at Elk Lake as soon as possible.

Ald. Stewart drew attention to the fact that the water committee had recommended some months ago that a fence be erected, but the council had turned it down.

His Worship stated that the city solicitor advised a referendum and he asked that official to report.

The city solicitor stated that the city barrister had reported that

TO USE ORE OF VANCOUVER ISLAND

Irondale Plant Will be Enlarged
Says the New Purchaser

JAMES A. MOORE VISITS VICTORIA

Vicissitudes of the Pioneer Smelter of the Northwest Coast

James A. Moore of Seattle, who recently purchased the Irondale smelter, and who is interested in iron properties—from which a supply of iron may be drawn for the furnaces—on the Vancouver Island coast, was in Victoria for a short visit on Sunday, accompanied by his wife and child. He said while here that the Irondale plant would be enlarged and would draw largely for its supply of ore from the Vancouver Island coast. The Irondale plant is situated adjacent to deep water on Townsend Bay, five miles from Port Townsend, and has dock facilities.

Mr. Moore states that the plant is to be auxiliary to the mammoth works he intends erecting at Kirkland, on Lake Washington. "In the making of car wheels," says Mr. Moore, "charcoal iron is necessary. This will be manufactured at the Townsend plant, while coke iron will be turned out at the plant on the lake.

"The purchase of the Irondale plant will not interfere with our plans for Lake Washington; it is, rather, an aid to them. The factory is in first-class condition. We intend, however, to spend considerable money in extending it. The capacity will be brought up to 50 or 60 tons a day, or double the old output of the plant. We are sending men East to buy the necessary material for the enlargement. About 100 men will be employed, and we expect to have it in shape for operation again in about six months. The old company employed a watchman to take care of the property, and we found this in remarkably good shape, considering the fact that the plant had not been operated for several years."

The Irondale works is the only iron-smelting plant ever installed on the Pacific Coast. It has had a long and varied career, and few men in the Northwest have more than a general knowledge of its history. The facts here given were furnished in the main by M. J. Carrigan, receiver for the Pacific Steel Company. The original company was formed thirty-six years ago. The best known of these pioneers in the iron industry of the Coast is Samuel Hadlock, who still resides at Port Hadlock, on Puget Sound. His associates were Messrs. Moore, Hastings and Pettygrove, who were early residents of Port Townsend. Moore was the leading spirit in the enterprise.

Along about 1880 someone interested San Francisco capital in some fine iron deposits on Texada Island, British Columbia. Chief among these men were Irving M. Scott and George H. Prescott, then the chief factors in the conduct of the Union Iron Works. They purchased 2400 acres of land carrying iron on the island, and turned their attention to the Irondale plant as a place to smelt it. They organized a company called the Puget Sound Iron Company, including Messrs. Prescott and Scott, Charles Webb, Howard, president of the Spring Valley Water Works; George C. Perkins and Edwin Goodall, both of Goodall, Perkins & Co., the predecessors of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company; Allan A. Curtis, Henry M. Dodge, Daniel F.

Hayes, John F. Merrill, of Holbrook, Merrill & Stetson.

San Francisco Men Build Furnace

In the early 80s these men built an old furnace plant at Irondale. They put in a small iron stack and operated a while, then installed the present stack. The bog ore at Chinameen was soon exhausted. They turned out a very fine grade of iron from their Texada ore. Their primary object, of course, was to supply the Union Iron Works, which was receiving numbers of government contracts. The charcoal iron was absolutely necessary for certain castings they made. They had been carrying it across the continent, and it was difficult to get a good article. Some of Uncle Sam's famous sea fighters constructed at the Union Iron Works, including the battleship Oregon, the cruiser Olympia and the monitor Monadnock, carry castings made at this historic old plant.

This company, like its predecessors, the pioneers, had its troubles in the management of the concern. Principal among their difficulties was to get a competent supervisor who could get out iron economically. Finally, along about 1885, they secured a man named A. J. Frosier, from Birmingham, Alabama, who administered the plant in a fairly satisfactory manner. He got it in good working shape, so that it produced 30 to 25 tons per day of what was considered wonderfully fine charcoal ore. The plant supplied the needs of the Union Iron Works and the whole Coast with this class of iron.

Why They Closed the Plant

But they were operating a long way from home. The owners were wealthy men, with large San Francisco interests which required their personal attention. Gradually they lost interest in their northern plant, and when southern ore became cheap, though inferior to the Coast product, they became careless whether they operated the Irondale furnace or not. Finally they arrived at a point where they determined either to send up one of their number to take charge of it or to shut it down. One day in the meeting of the board of trustees, Mr. Prescott, who was in the chair, made the proposition that some member of the board go north and take charge. The offer was passed around to all the members and none accepted. Then Mr. Prescott left the chair and made the motion to close the plant. It was so voted, and operations were suspended in 1889. The company had spent $250,000 on the plant, much of it in improvements. During the dull business period in the middle of the 80s the plant had accumulated more than 6000 tons of iron, which was sold at $30 per ton by W. H. Lee, who had been placed in charge when the plant was closed.

Pacific Steel Co. Buys Factory

He cared for the smelter until 1901, when the Pacific Steel Company purchased it for $40,000. This company was organized by Homer H. Swaney, a lawyer from McKeesport, with Pittsburgh, McKeesport and New York capital. The old Puget Sound company had placed a price of $80,000 on the factory, but accepted $40,000 in consideration of an agreement by the new owners to take large quantities of Texada ore. Mr. Swaney came west as vice president and general manager. He made improvements of various kinds, refitted the stack, put in a saw-grinding mill, and built a charcoal warehouse. He built twenty new houses for the men, expending in all about $60,000. He got the property in good shape, but had not the capital to make the improvements necessary to economical production of iron ore. The ore was obtained from Texada Island, a high-grade magnetite, running 61 per cent. metallic iron in the furnace. Other ore was secured from the Skagit. The market was large, extending all over the Coast. The two large customers were the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, which purchased the iron for car wheels, and the Griffin Car Wheel Company, of Tacoma, making wheels for the Northern Pacific and for logging roads in the Northwest. Mr. Carrigan had charge of the selling of the ore. When the plant shut down he had orders ahead for 2500 tons.

Swaney Lost on Callam

Mr. Swaney was in the middle of plans for the enlargement of the plant and putting it on a basis to turn out iron economically, when he lost his life on the Callam, in January, 1903. He had planned to put in a new stove and conveyors, to simplify the handling of the business. During his operation of the plant he had been troubled with continual shut-downs, owing to shortage of fuel, breakdowns of the hot-blast stove, and other difficulties which could have been avoided with sufficient capital. Mr. Swaney was repairing the old stove, when he knew a new one to be necessary for the best results. It was his plan to demonstrate the extra fine quality of the product, then to get the capital for a larger and more economical plant.

"Had Mr. Swaney lived," said Mr. Carrigan, "I have no doubt he would have been able to carry out his plans and get the company on its feet. The plant had been shut down shortly before Mr. Swaney's death, and in order to hold the property together the appointment of a receiver was made necessary, and the appointment was made January 11, 1903."

Mr. Carrigan, the receiver, determined either to reorganize the company among the old stockholders and bondholders, or, failing in that, to keep the plant in shape to sell it to someone who would rehabilitate it. He put on a watchman, who protected the property, and the machinery was kept as nearly in running order as possible. The court put an upset price of $40,000 and it was bid in, Thursday last, by Mr. Moore at that figure.

Irondale Product Unexcelled

"That Irondale smelter," said Mr. Carrigan, "is capable of turning out, from ore available on the Coast, as fine iron as is produced in the world. The inspectors of the battleship Nebraska made tests of all the samples of pig iron they could assemble. As a result of these, the government specified that the Pacific Steel Company's iron should be used in the casting of the Nebraska, and that was done. One of the inspectors declared that with one exception the iron was the finest in the world. The exception was the product of a small 20-ton plant in Sweden."

"There is an annual consumption of 80,000 tons of pig iron on the Pacific Coast. If Mr. Moore can make 20,000 tons of ore a year he will not be supplying half the demand. I am satisfied that he has the capital to operate the plant economically and to put it on a money-making basis. The big factor that, to a large extent, determines success in the making of charcoal iron is fuel. The plant lies close to an enormous supply of timber, good for charcoal purposes, down on Hoods Canal. This is to be tapped by a railroad line, and the fuel question will be solved. The importance of cheap fuel may be appreciated when it is known that the ton cost of the fuel is twice that of the iron ore."

Will Manufacture By-Products

"Mr. Moore has a further plan to cheapen the fuel by the installation of a plant for the manufacture of by-products from the wood, thus practically paying for the fuel from the by-products themselves. He has a large body of bog ore in Skagit county, also much hematite ore on Quatsino Sound, Vancouver Island. His principal supply, I believe, will come from the first-named source. This will run 50 per cent. metallic iron, which, softer, more easily smelted and cheaper than the magnetite. I believe it is his intention to refine the furnace, put in a new stove, get new batteries of boilers, or conveyors to handle the ore direct from the bunkers to the furnace, and an additional modern retort plant, to distill the wood by-products."

DIFFERENCE A CIPHER MAKES.

A misprint in Sunday's paper regarding an estimate of the cost of bridging Seymour Narrows ran the amount up from twenty to two hundred millions of dollars.

COLDS AND CROUP IN CHILDREN.

Women who have young children that are subject to colds and croup will be interested in the statement of Mrs. Wm. H. Serig, No. 41 Fifth St., Wheeling, W. Va., who says: "My little girl is subject to colds. Last winter she had a severe spell and a terrible cough but I cured her with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy without the aid of a doctor, and my little boy has been prevented many times from having the croup by the timely use of this syrup. As soon as he shows any signs of croup I give him the Cough Remedy for three or four days which prevents the attack." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

A Grand Medicine for the Kidneys.

Don't suffer—don't experiment—don't waste money on unknown, untried remedies. There is one quick cure—one certain cure—one cure that everybody knows does cure Kidney Trouble. That's Gin Pills.

"I have been a sufferer with Kidney Trouble for years. Have tried medicines and doctors' prescriptions, but could get no permanent relief, my case being pronounced chronic. As it is generally known that the properties of gin without the alcohol is good for the kidneys, I decided to try Gin Pills, but must admit with very little faith. From the very first pill I got relief, and have since taken nearly four boxes and am COMPLETELY CURED, but am going to continue them a while longer. No dull, sickening pains in the back—no low spirits—am increasing in weight—and more vim and vigor than I have had for years—is what Gin Pills have done for me.

"H. P. HERBERT, Ottawa."

Be well and strong. Be free of pain. Be able to enjoy all the good things of life, with all your old-time vigor and enthusiasm. Gin Pills will cure those sick kidneys. Start now—day-to-day—and see how much better you feel to-morrow. 30c box—6 boxes for $2.50—and your money back if they don't cure.

Special offer: If you send us your name and address and tell us the name of the paper in which you read this we will send you a trial box absolutely free and post prepaid. Write today and get the medicine that cures.

THE BABINE INDIANS.

Just how serious is the difficulty with the Babine Indians over the matter of the salmon weirs in the Skeena, we do not know, but it is impossible not to be very deeply impressed with the observations made by Rev. Father Morice in his letter published in the Colonist on Sunday. This is a very commercial age, and we are all of us apt to think that nothing ought to be allowed to stand in the way of the development of opportunities to make money. But there are other things of quite as great importance and one of them is the right of people to live. It is desirable that salmon life should be preserved and permitted to multiply, but if to accomplish this end it is necessary to deprive several hundreds of Indians of their chief source of food, the demands of commerce must give way to the demands of humanity. We do not say that a way cannot be found whereby the needs of the Indians can be met without in any way interfering with the proper protection of the fishing industry. The government officials would be singularly deficient in ability if this were true. At present it is only fair to assume that the application of the regulations to the country in which the Babine Indians live is only an ordinary matter of routine administration and that no consideration has been given to the results that would follow. It would be difficult to believe that any one, fit to exercise governmental responsibility, would be found willing to persist in such a course as Father Babine indicates as likely to be the consequence of the enforcement of the regulations. The reverend gentleman, like the rest of us, is only able to speak by hearsay about what has actually transpired this year; but he is an authority on the general subject, and the Department of Fisheries cannot do better than pay attention to what he says, which needless to add is not in any way prompted by political motives or by any other desire than to protect a people, who are really unable to protect themselves.

PARTY POLITICS.

As long as men are men, there will be political parties in the state, and the struggle between them will not simply be an effort of the ins to stay and the outs to get in. There will always be something—perhaps a great deal of that sort of thing, but on the whole the differences between political parties are substantial differences. To most questions there are two sides, but not to all. On the latter parties do not divide although they may do so on the manner in which a question, universally approved, is handled by those charged with the administration of affairs. Hence on nearly everything there is ground for a difference of opinion, and hence nearly every question, which arises, may be made a party one. It is desirable that there should be party politics, if for no other reason than that it is undesirable that the control of the affairs of the people should not be vested too long in any set of men. Of course the only test as to the proper length of time a party should remain in power is public opinion, and when the people think the time for a change has come, it comes quite irrespective of the particular issue involved in the election.

But while there always will and ought to be party politics, we do not want party politics always. Some people think otherwise, and unless the newspapers supporting their party, are continually belaboring the other party they think they are being badly served. The best newspapers refrain from partisan discussion as much as they can. They endeavor to deal with public questions on their merits. The day of personalities in newspaper political controversy is also happily passing away. This is not to say that, when a public man deserves censure, he ought not to receive it, but only that the old-fashioned idea that a newspaper ought, in season and out, to belabor its political opponents has been abandoned in British and Canadian politics to a very great extent.

In Canada we have refused to follow the example of our neighbors and carry political differences into municipal matters. With them everything is political from their courts to the humblest official—that is, if there are any humble officials in the United States. Our plan is the better one. We restrict the scope of party politics and there cannot be much doubt that the result is better government.

TRADE WITH JAPAN.

Frequent reference is made in the press to the possible trade that can be developed in flour between Canada and Japan, but the general public have only very hazy conceptions in regard to it. Most people suppose that this country is ready at any time to take that trade up, and some of us have doubtless wondered why it is that Japan last year only imported some $62,000 worth of Canadian flour, and perhaps have drawn the conclusion that after all the Japanese market has been greatly overestimated. Mr. Alexander MacLean, who is the Canadian trade representative in Yokohama, throws a flood of light on the matter in a report published in No. 133 of the weekly reports of the department of trade and commerce. He tells us that the reason why we have so little of the trade is that we are not prepared to supply it. Japanese importers, or rather importers in Japan, for they are often foreigners, are not in the least interested in a source of supply that cannot send thousands of barrels, and contract for a continuous supply of thousands of barrels. Mr. MacLean does not say so in so many words, but it is to be inferred from his observations that it is of no use whatever for Canada to think of seriously competing for the flour trade of Japan under existing conditions. The prime necessity of the trade is a constant supply of the same brand, true to sample, and in large quantities.

Flour, Mr. MacLean tells us, is sold almost exclusively by brands. A certain importing firm handles a certain brand, and its customers through the country take that brand and no other. An unknown brand or a job lot of flour stand an exceedingly good chance of being left on the importer's hands. The Japanese people have not had our experience in handling wheat flour of various makes. They know about one or perhaps two kinds, and they will not buy what they have not proved by their experience. Of course, new brands can be introduced, and will be, but the shipments must be in sufficient quantity to make it worth while for the importer to make the necessary effort to introduce it.

Mr. MacLean thinks that the solution of the problem lies in freight rates, which must be low enough to permit the delivery of Alberta and even Manitoba wheat in competition with that grown in eastern Washington and Oregon. When this has been done, he foresees a very large market for Canadian wheat flour in Japan, and if in Japan, then even a larger market may be looked for in China. Unless freights can be adjusted to this basis, Mr. MacLean thinks that our flour trade with Japan will have to wait until western Alberta and British Columbia produce a surplus large enough to be worth taking into account.

THE NEGATIVE SIDE.

We are very fond of telling ourselves and other people about the many excellent things, which Vancouver Island can boast of, but we do not as a rule say very much about things, which we do not possess. It is therefore only fair that the reverse side of the shield should be shown, in order that it shall not be said that only half a case has been prescribed. Now there are some things of which we cannot boast, and yet there are conspicuous features of lands that have attracted thousands upon thousands of settlers and millions upon millions of capital. It is only right that these should be given due prominence. Among them we note:

The entire absence of venomous reptiles. There are parts of the world, that set a very great deal of store by themselves, where some people make a living catching rattlesnakes for various purposes. A rattlesnake catcher would starve to death on Vancouver Island, unless he pursued some other business. He might catch the innocent little garter snakes, but he would not find any where from Williams Head to Cape Scott anything of the reptile species that is not absolutely harmless.

Then there is a great lack of birds and beast of prey. In the inner recesses of the mountains there are some wolves, and occasionally cowardly panthers are met with. If you go looking for a bear in some localities, you may see one, provided he does not see you first; but as a general proposition, so far as wild animals are concerned a man may go anywhere on Vancouver Island without encountering them. The contrast between this island in this respect, and some other parts of the world where men and money have gone in abundance is remarkable.

There is also an absolute lack of hostile natives. To the man in search of excitement, and who does not feel that he is getting all there is in life unless he is shooting natives or being shot at by them, this also is a serious drawback; yet he will have to put up with it on Vancouver Island. To our credit, or discredit as your opinion may be, there is not the least romance to be got out of life here by reason of collisions with the hostile savages.

The lack of poisonous insects is another feature of the case, which may or may not call for an apology, according as you look at it. Even the universal mosquito is not nearly as much of a nuisance here as he is in many favored lands. Compared with his fellows in other places, a Vancouver Island mosquito is a delusion and a snare. A New Jersey mosquito would refuse to recognize him as even the most distant relation.

Then there is the matter of cyclones. We do not believe that you can find anywhere in Vancouver Island a solitary specimen of that unique architectural structure known as a cyclone cellar, with which the Middle West of the United States more or less abounds. And while on this subject mention may be made of the fact you may search high and low here for a lightning rod. It is surmised that Mike King's wild man is simply a lightning rod peddler, who has gone out of his mind at the absolute lack of business. Therefore this is a good island for cyclone-cellar architects and lightning rod peddlers to keep away from.

There is also an absolute lack of miasma. There is not a swamp in the whole island that is capable of breeding fevers, which is a deficiency that need not be enlarged upon.

Of revolutions there is a total lack. In Cuba, Central America, and a lot of places in South America you can get a revolution while you wait; but you would die of old age waiting for one here. Our people have so little sense of the picturesqueness, that they have actually surrounded life and property with so many safeguards that existence is scandalously prosaic.

There are some other features of this character that might be mentioned, but these will prevent it being said hereafter that we have been endeavoring to entice people here under false pretences. The above criticisms of the country are true and there is no getting away from them. It is highly important that this should be known. In order to make a new country really acceptable to an Englishman, it is necessary that there would be a lot of naked savages on the beach ready to welcome him on arrival with poisoned arrows, assegais and the other specimens of brie-a-brac, affected by certain people, whom our race appears to think itself commissioned to civilize. If there is a layer of miasma over the country, so thick that you can lift it with a bar fork, so much the better, and the attractions are greatly increased if there is a whole menagerie of carnivorous creatures ready to receive you "into their midst." A thing that you do not have to fight either man or nature for is hardly worth having, according to the philosophy of our aggressive race, and we sincerely hope that the above drawbacks to our otherwise fair island will be made as widely known as the advantages in the shape of soil, climate, timber, mines, fisheries and ordinary things like that, which we possess in abundance. It is well to be prepared, in coming to a new country, to take the bitter with the sweet, and it is unfair to pretend that we have things that we have not.

POLO.

A correspondent not long ago asked us to write something about polo. We took him and the rest of mankind into our confidence and told him we did not know anything about it, and asked him for information. He kindly replied and told us some things, which lead us to suggest that he ought to endeavor to organize a polo club. He frankly admits that it is not a poor man's sport; but says that we have plenty of people in Victoria, who can afford the necessary expense, and with a delicacy of touch that is delightful, he suggests that a man, who plays polo, will have to keep his head pretty level, and hence may save money in other directions. As to what the game is, he neatly summarizes his description in three words: "Hockey on horseback."

There is no doubt that among many sports there is none deserving of higher esteem than polo. That it is not indulged in here is probably due to the lack of a leisure class of men, whose fancy runs towards horsemanship. We are not a "horsey" people in Victoria. With the finest roads on the Pacific Coast, it is rare that we see a horseman or horsewoman. Yet we have plenty of people who can afford saddle horses, and have abundance of leisure to make use of them. Just now the fashion is to fly around the country in a motor car. This will be a short-lived fad. The motor car will follow the bicycle into the place where it properly belongs, namely, that of a business vehicle to be used when you are in a hurry. In other parts of the world there are signs of returning sanity on the subject of locomotion, and as we lagged a little behind the rest in taking up the motor car, so we will hold on to it a little while after others have put it where it belongs.

In the meanwhile let us have polo. To sit a horse well, to manage him through the intricacies of a game, to study the noble beast and at the same time study yourself, as is necessary if you are going to play polo, is a liberal education of a kind, and not a bad kind either. If the more or less golden youth of Victoria would get a horse between their legs often they would be all the better for it in body and mind, and really none the worse for it in pocket. It is said that man is a vain animal, much vainer than his fairer sisters, and perhaps our youth may be induced to go in for polo by the fact that a man never looks anything like as well as on the back of a lively pony, which he must manage with one hand, while he handles his stick, if that is the right name for it, with the other.

Speaking in all seriousness, we say that it would be an excellent thing if a strong polo club were organized here. We are not so rash as to say anything against golf, for it is our earnest desire to avoid anything that can be construed into sacrilege; but when we see a bright lot of girls coming in from Oak Bay or elsewhere with their hockey sticks in their hands, it is not wholly comforting to think that their brothers, or if they have no brothers, some other girls' brothers, are marching in solitary stateliness across the golf grounds. As an offset to ladies' hockey we ought certainly to have polo.

And so the Department of the Interior is going to take up the Songhees Reserve question and settle it. If this proves to be true, Victoria will be like the Court of Chancery after Jarndyce and Jarndyce had been disposed of. What shall we have to talk about, when other subjects fail? Of course there will be the water question.

The United States is going to employ Chinese in digging the Panama Canal. There is something sublimely funny about this. The coolies are to come in really as slaves, only they will be called by another name. By the way, the statue of the Goddess of Liberty in New York harbor is getting in a sad state of disrepair.

The Toronto News is somewhat concerned as to the part that Mr. Bourassa will take in the politics of Canada in the next decade or so. It says that evidently he does not wish to succeed Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the leadership of the Liberal party, but for all that he appears to be actuated by some inscrutable purpose. It occurs to us that the News is surrounding the brilliant young Frenchman with unnecessary mystery. It is possible for a man to be actually independent in thought and fearless in expressing himself, without having any ulterior motives. The trouble with most people in public life is that they are so everlastingly hidebound that they cannot appreciate originality and the most ordinary exhibition of independent action without fancying that the person displaying such characteristics is really an incendiary of some kind in disguise. We do not share in Mr. Bourassa's views on many public questions, but we can admire his fearlessness without being afraid that he is planning the disruption of existing conditions.

WINDOW DECORATION WITHOUT BLINDS

THIS treatment relies entirely on Curtains, and does away with the use of blinds; it is extremely HANDSOME, and has an artistic effect of a most distinctive character. The Casement Curtains are in two pairs, one for each sash. This is a decided advantage, they can be moved separately. The best materials to use are: fine chintz, 31 inches wide, at 30c per yd.; or the new art linens in tapestry designs, 33 inches wide, at 85c per yard; or rich muslins, 50 inches wide, at 35c per yard. The muslins must be of a close texture—an open fabric would not be sufficient protection against the sun.

The Side Curtains and Valance are in Impression-de-Chine, the beautiful new art fabric, 50 inches wide, at $3.25 per yard; or Cotton Taffeta, in rich floral pattern, 50 inches wide, at $2.25 per yard. In cases where the Impression-de-Chine is considered too expensive to use, a very beautiful effect can be made by substituting Liberty Art Fabrics, of which we have a large stock in many different designs 31 inches wide, at 30c per yard.

Our Drapery Department on Second Floor carries a large range of all the materials mentioned above. Samples will be forwarded free on application.

The Panelling at foot of window is from our Factory, and can be made in Oak, Cedar or Native Fir, either from our own designs or from your architect's.

Phenomenal Corn.—Mrs. Rudd of No. 4 Rock Bay avenue, who is occupying Mr. Collister's old place, reports a remarkable growth of corn, some of the stalks being 15 feet in height.

Post-Nuptial Wedding.—Mrs. Sydney Child will hold her post-nuptial reception at her new home "Beckley Cottage" Simcoe street, next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Afterwards Mrs. Child will receive on the first and third Wednesdays in each month.

Roof Improvement.—The government building at the Ganges Harbor road will be broadened to 24 feet. It is understood that a grader, with other implements for such purposes will be sent up, and that work will be carried out under the supervision of Mr. Gamble, public works engineer.

The Islands' Show.—The prize catalogue of the Islands' Agricultural society were issued last week. It is thought that the list this year is far superior to any previous ones, and the officers of the society anticipate a "tip-top show." At first some of the farmers were in a "don't care" mood, but this has become obliterated, and enthusiasm now reigns in its stead. An excursion is expected on the same day from Vancouver, which, no doubt, will be a valuable acquisition to the success of the function.

Laid to Rest.—At Ganges Harbor on Salt Spring Island on Sunday the funeral took place of Miss Margaret Mayart. The service at the church and grave were conducted by the Rev. Thos. Keyworth. It was one of the most largely attended funerals that has ever taken place on Salt Spring, the whole community turning out to pay their last respects to the memory of the deceased. The large number of wreaths, crosses and anchors amply indicated the esteem in which the late Miss Mayart was held, and the universal regret of her death. The pall bearers were: J. Akerman, P. Purvis, W. Cacafee, N. Wilson, J. Collins and E. Collins.

To Accept Scholarship.—Miss Alma Clarke accompanied by her mother, leaves in a few days for Toronto to accept a scholarship given her by Dr. Torrington of the Toronto College of Music, last July when he was in Victoria. According to musical critics Miss Clarke is a genius. She plays selections from the leading masters such as Beethoven, Chopin, Liszt, Mendelssohn and Wagner, with ease and splendid expression. Her early training assisted greatly in passing the examination with success. She also received a special gold medal at a recital given by the senior pupils of Miss S. F. Smith last July at "Sea View," Dallas road. Miss Clarke is but fourteen years of age and there is a brilliant future for her. This is the second scholarship which has been awarded to Miss S. F. Smith's pupils.

Body Brought South.—The body of Donald B. Robertson, of Port Simpson, who committed suicide at that place recently by blowing the top of his head off with a rifle, was brought down on the Beaver for shipment to Ottawa. William McIntyre, of Calgary, brother-in-law of the deceased, met the boat at Vancouver and took charge of the remains. The late Mr. Robertson was half-owner of the Northern hotel at Port Simpson, his partner being Mr. George Rudge.

Fine Copper Properties.—A passenger on the Princess Beatrice was P. W. Pennefather, of the mounted police service at White Horse. He has come out on a holiday, and states that the copper properties recently bonded by Byron N. White of Spokane, and one of the first operators in the Shocan, are showing wonderful promise and predicts that they will be the making of White Horse. Some of the surface showing on the White properties have run as high as 51 per cent in copper. Valuable new copper discoveries have been made within the last few weeks.

Banquet To Minister.—This evening at the Victoria hotel, a banquet under the auspices of the Young Men's Liberal club will be tendered Hon. Wm. Templeman, minister of inland revenue. Besides Hon. Mr. Templeman there will be present a number of politicians. Ralph Smith, M. P., has accepted the invitation telegraphed to him, and is expected to arrive in time to grace the affair with his presence. Wm. Sloan, M. P., also has been invited, but his attendance is doubtful. Senator Riley, the four local members of the provincial legislature and the president and secretary of the Victoria Liberal association are among the guests expected.

Anniversary Services.—On Sunday last Sunday school anniversary services were held at the Soldiers' and Sailors' home. At the morning services at 10 o'clock an address was given by N. Shakespeare, whose great enthusiasm for Sunday school work is widely known. In the evening at 7 a sermon was preached by W. Marchant, editor of the Western Baptist, while at 2:30 p. m. an open session of the school was held when several short addresses were given. An anniversary tea will be held this evening from 6:30 to 8 o'clock and a public meeting will follow. Admission to the tea for those not connected with the school will be charged as is usual.

An Early Close.—An early closing of navigation on the Yukon river is looked for by northern steamboatmen. It is not generally thought that navigation will be possible after the end of the present month and at all events not after the end of the first week in October. The dates of the closing of navigation on the Yukon in recent years are as follows: 1900, October 10th; 1901, October 11th; 1902, October 17th; 1903, October 11th; 1904, October 11th, and 1905, October 9th. On the Atlin route navigation has closed in the past as follows: 1902, November 5th; 1903, October 31st; 1904, November 2nd, and 1905, November 27th. At present the water in the Yukon is falling rapidly.

Progress In Yukon.—J. H. Rogers, traffic manager of the White Pass & Yukon railway, spent a short time in the city on Friday after a two months' trip to the Yukon, coming down on the Prince Rupert. He left almost immediately for Seattle to confer with other officials of the company mentioned. In the course of an interview he stated that, although the pick and shovel have given way to gigantic dredges in the Yukon, Dawson will continue in its present prosperity. Five dredges are already working in the district; one on Bear creek, owned by the Rothschilds; the Bonanza Basin Company's dredge; now working on the lower Klondike; the Ogilvie dredge built for the Stewart river, but now working on the lower Klondike; the original Klondike dredge built by the Lewis River Gold Mining & Dredging company, and the Canadian Forty-mile dredge owned by a Toronto syndicate, headed by Dr. Grant and W. J. Smith.

Back From Convention.—Skene Lowe who as reported in Sunday's issue of the Colonist as having been honored with the post of vice president for British Columbia of the Photographers' association of the Pacific Northwest at the recent annual convention of that body at Spokane, returned yesterday morning and states that both he and the other local representative, J. Savannah, had a splendid time. They were entertained in a most hospitable way. At luncheon given in their honor the Mayor of Spokane referred to Victoria as a place noted for its beauty. Although he had never been there, he had heard of the city and was sure the reports were not exaggerated. In responding Mr. Lowe, after praising Spokane, tendered the mayor a cordial invitation to visit British Columbia's capital, assuring him that his preconceived idea of Victoria's loveliness would be more than substantiated. The entertainment concluded with the presentation of a handsome loving cup to the secretary-treasurer and a beautiful beer stein to J. Savannah, of this city.

Board of Trade.—Attention of members is called to the important meeting of the Board of Trade council at 10:30 this morning, to arrange affairs prior to the monthly general meeting on Thursday.

Harmony Hall Mission.—At Harmony Hall mission tomorrow evening, there will be a rally of parents and children. Addresses will be delivered by W. T. Ash, H. W. Northcott, O. French and Rev. G. V. Dean. Solos will be delivered by Mrs. W. E. Staneland and others.

At Old Men's Home.—This evening the Old Men's Home will be the scene of a concert. The programme has been arranged by the Royal Templars of Temperance and is likely to be a very good one. The friends will meet at the corner of Yates and Government streets and proceed to the home by the 10 minutes to 8 car. Those who can are requested to bring refreshments.

A Lucky Hunt.—Fred J. Bittancourt left his ranch at Goldstream Sunday morning to have a couple of hours' hunt for big game in the prairie above the E. & N. tracks, and within fifteen minutes was fortunate in securing three large bucks which is considered the record shoot for some considerable time. He has had a photograph taken with them, one of which the Tourist association want for their collection of exhibits.

Mishap on C. P. R.—A west-bound freight train on the C. P. R. ran into a washout between Ross Peak and Glacier at 10:30 on Friday night, but fortunately no one was killed. Engineer W. Coughlin, Fireman S. Johnson and brakeman J. E. Butler escaped with injuries which the doctor reports are not serious. The line was cleared late Saturday afternoon. The rains over the Selkirk during Thursday and Friday were very heavy and caused the mountain streams to swell. Jams were formed, which resulted in the water going over the track at various places between Revelstoke and Beavermouth.

The Guggenheims.—The Guggenheims are now assembling three dredges for work next season in the Yukon. Two of these will be located on 104 below Bonanza, and the other on 90 below the same creek. A dredge for Col. Budd and Russell King is now on its way down river to Dawson. It will be taken to the mouth of Forty-mile and hauled up that stream to American territory. The Allen dredge, also for the American end of the Forty-mile, was shipped the other day on the steamer Al-Ki. At least five other dredges, apart from others the Guggenheims are likely to build, will be sent north next season.

School Board Meeting.—The regular monthly meeting of the board of school trustees will be held tomorrow evening in the council chamber of the city hall at 8 o'clock. This meeting will be the third from which Trustee Miss Cameron has been absent and according to the regulations on this question an absence from three monthly meetings causes a member of the board to lose her standing as a trustee. At present, Miss Cameron is engaged in the offices of the Western Canadian Immigration company with headquarters in Chicago, but whether she intends to return to this city it is impossible to say. What action the board will take will be determined on tomorrow evening.

Government Street Closed.—The extension of Government street from Michigan street to Toronto street has again been closed to vehicular traffic, and till the corporation are able to raise funds to have the thoroughfare put in good condition it will be necessary for the wagons to journey around the block. It is several months since a first attempt was made to open the street and at that time a gravel sidewalk was laid on the west side but nothing was done to the main thoroughfare and the many carts have daily used the road, driving over the sidewalk at the north end in their efforts to make a short cut and at the same time completely spoiling it, till during the recent rains it became a regular mud hole. In order to prevent the vehicles using the road city workmen yesterday blockaded both ends leaving only a narrow position available for foot passengers.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE FALL FAIR

All Preparations at Present Point to a Most Successful Event

The arrangements for the fall fair which opens in this city on Tuesday, Sept. 25, and continues for the four following days, are progressing very rapidly, and unless some unforeseen occurrence takes place, it is expected that it will prove a great success. Everything at present points to the most successful fair ever held in this city and the committee are sparing no effort to make it the success hoped for.

A number of carpenters have been put to work repairing the building and everything will be in readiness for the exhibition when they commence to arrive. The track is fast being got into men condition and several local horses are now using it daily in order to get in condition for the races which are run in connection with the fair. The tug of war is beginning to attract considerable attention, and many teams are making preparations to enter.

The local police have decided to enter and are expecting a team from the police of the Terminal City to enter in their endeavor to win the trophy from the Victoria police which the latter won on the occasion of the policemen's sports in Vancouver.

The Native Sons of this city as well as the local Aerie of Eagles are also arranging to enter a team, while the St. Andrew's society have already decided to do so. With the three lodges and the police entered a good exhibition will be given. The trophy in this case is the "Players' Cup" presented by the Player Tobacco company of England, through Turner, Beaton & Co., their agents in this city. The cup is a very handsome one and is expected to prove an incentive to have the Vancouver Police enter a team.

According to a recent arrival from Calgary there is considerable interest being shown in the bunching contest, and it is likely that there will be several from this section taking part in the competition. While in Calgary this gentleman witnessed a similar exhibition and states that some good work was done, and the crowds were well pleased. This gentleman who now makes Victoria his home has had much experience in this line, being for years the broncho buster for the Northwest Mounted Police, but owing to increased weight as well as age, he has been compelled to relinquish the strenuous life for something easier. In conversation with a Colonist reporter he related many tricks to which the riders would resort to in order to maintain their seat in the saddle. Several were very ingenious and once secured in position, it is a hard matter for the cayuse to "buck" him off, and unless the judges are very quick the rider will miss without having them in the saddle. The tricks are very numerous but are well known by the now retired rider, and knowing the tricks as he does he would make a good man, if the committee were in need of a judge.

Other information that has been received also gives the impression that this event will be the feature of the exhibition. Games for the exhibition are commencing to come in regularly and it is expected that before the week closes that many applications for space will have been received. Up to the present time there have been more applications made for space than at any other exhibition to a date corresponding with the present. In fact everything points to a very successful exhibition.

LIFE-SAVING EXHIBITION.

Believed That Weather Conditions Will Be Favorable for the Event.

Three days of sustained delightful weather encourage the management to hope that there need be no further postponement of the picturesque exhibition of lifesaving arranged for tomorrow evening at the Gorge park. Several practices have been held by the Dominion Lifesaving crew, commanded by Captain Voss to guarantee against the possibility of any hitch in what promises to be one of the most unique as well as spectacular entertainments of several seasons. The lifesaving, which was built to order of the Dominion government for service on the western coast of this island, is now at the Gorge and all arrangements are well under way for the Wednesday evening demonstration of its serviceability. The exhibition includes the launching of the lifesaving and rescues from the water, and from the provided wreck, as well as rescuing the "shipwrecked" crew from the rigging of the derelict by means of the line rocket and the breeches buoy.

In order that the exhibition may be replete with realism from first to last, His Worship, Mayor Morley, has kindly authorized the fire department to give the standard code of signals which should the lifesaving be required, in stern reality, will bring her crew together to battle with wind and wave for human life. The signal will be sounded at 7 o'clock sharp, four times eight bells from the city fire halls, and by the brewery whistle. The exhibition will not begin until an hour later. The demonstration which is given by special permission of the minister of marine for Canada and under the auspices of the Lifesaving Association of British Columbia, for which humanitarian organization a collection will be taken during the evening, is the first of its kind to be given in western Canada, although similar demonstrations with perhaps less spectacular accessories, have proven among the best attractions at the Pan-American, St. Louis and other great exhibitions in recent years. The complete programme for the guidance of the public will be given in tomorrow's issue.

NOT HEREDITARY.

Baldness Due to a Living Minute Germ.

Many people even unto the present day of grace, consider baldness due to hereditary influence. Nothing is further from truth—Baldness is caused by the onslaught of a minute organism which secretes itself beneath the scalp and attacks the roots of the hair—causing it to lose its life and fall out.

No matter how badly the scalp is effected the Dandruff surely disappears and hair-health is restored when Herpicide is applied.

"Destroy the cause you remove the effect."

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. C. H. Bowes & Co., 98 Government Street, Special Agents.

For Earl's Visit.—An extraordinary general meeting of the Ladies' Aid to the Victoria Tourist and Development Association is called for tomorrow morning at 11. The meeting is to arrange details in regard to Earl Grey's visit.

For a Good Complexion

FOR Clear Eyes
—Sweet Breath
—Clean Tongue
—Calm Nerves
—Good Temper and
—Poise

Eat a Cascaret whenever you suspect you need it. Carry a little 10c Emergency box constantly with you, in your Purse or Pocket.

When do you need one?

—When your Tongue is coated
—When you have Heartburn, Belching, Acid Risings in Throat.
—When Pimples begin to peep out.
—When your stomach Gnaws and Burns.

That's the time to check coming Constipation, Indigestion and Dyspepsia. That's the time to take a Cascaret.

One candy tablet night and morning, taken regularly for a short time, is warranted to cure the worst case of Constipation or Indigestion that walks the earth.

One tablet taken whenever you suspect you need it will insure you against 90 per cent of all other ills likely to attack you. Because 90 per cent of these ills begin in the Bowels, or exist through poor Nutrition.

Cascarets don't purge, don't weaken, don't irritate, nor upset your stomach.

They don't act like "Physic" that flush out the Bowels with a waste of precious Digestive Juice needed for tomorrow's Bowel-work.

No, they act like Exercise, on the Bowels, instead.

They stimulate the Bowel Muscles to contract and propel the Food naturally past the little valves that mix Digestive Juices with Food.

They strengthen these Bowel-Muscles by exercising them.

This stronger action, producing greater nutrition from food, brings back to the Bowel-Muscles greater strength for self-operation.

The Bowel-Muscles can thus, in a short time, dispense with any Drug assistance whatever.

Cascarets are safe to take as often as you need them, while pleasant to eat as Candy.

Then carry the little ten-cent box constantly with you in your purse, and take a Cascaret whenever you suspect you need it.

One Cascaret at a time will promptly cleanse a foul Breath, or Coated Tongue.

A thousand dollars a year spent in amusements could not buy for you half so much hearty Happiness, solid Comfort, Cheerful Temper and Health Insurance, as that little ten-cent "Vest Pocket" Box of Cascarets will bring you.

All druggists sell them—over ten million boxes a year, for six years past.

Be very careful to get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "CCC."

A sample and the famous booklet, "Curse of Constipation," Free for the asking. Address Sterling Remedy Company, Chicago or New York.

Fisheries Commissions.—It is officially announced that the members of the Canadian Fisheries commission will sit at Vancouver on Saturday at 10:30, and a resumption of the sessions of the International Fisheries Commissions will be made at Vancouver on Wednesday, September 10th.

LECTURE ON TEMPERANCE.

An Interesting Discourse by Dr. Sims Woodland at Institute Hall.

The lecture on temperance delivered last evening by Dr. G. Sims Woodland, in the Institute hall, was one of the finest examples of oratorical art which has been heard by a Victorian audience for some time past. It is not often that Victoria has the pleasure of listening to such a well known authority on this most important question, and it is probably attributable to this reason that the large Institute hall was comfortably filled, and the audience thoroughly enjoyed the speeches which were given.

Rev. T. W. Gladstone occupied the chair, and Dr. Woodland was also supported by Rev. H. A. Carson, Dr. Ernest Hall, Dr. Davis, N. Shakespeare and Mrs. McNaughton, the president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Dr. Woodland, took as his subject "Modern Discoveries As to The Relation Between Alcohol and Health." Being a recognized medical authority on the subject the doctor's statements were mostly on a scientific basis. He very conclusively demonstrated the way in which by up-to-date scientific methods, the result of imbibing alcohol was distinguished, and the way in which the cases were treated by the medical profession. Especially in tuberculosis diseases where the life of the disease germ is now easily distinguished.

The Police Court.—S. Waldron, proprietor of the Colonial hotel, was fined $100 and $250 costs in the city police court yesterday morning by Police Magistrate Hall on the charge laid by Dominion Constable O'Connell of selling liquor to an Indian. Waldron gave evidence in his own defence, and called his wife and a man who had been sitting in a chair in the barroom at the time of the sale. The defence urged that the saloon keeper mistook the Indian for a half-breed. Both Waldron and his wife state that he asked the purchaser of the liquor if he was a half-breed, and the man replied that he was. The other witness told of hearing the conversation to that end, but he was not very positive. The Magistrate said it were difficult to mistake the Indian in question for a half-breed. He was obviously an Indian. Waldron was convicted and fined, with the option of three months' imprisonment.

FINE AS SILK.

That is What a Little Girl Says of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

I am a little girl, eight years of age, do not know much, but one thing I do know, and that is that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is fine as silk for any one with a stomach ache. I had a very severe pain last night, took a dose of it and was relieved at once. Maude Ellen Wood, Clifton, Va. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

ABOUT THE FIRE LADDIES.

Sir—Referring to a short paragraph in the local papers to the number of the fire department who are resigning, I think it is time that something should be done in the way of giving them some incentive to stay with the department, which has always held such a good record for keeping down the fire loss of our city.

I don't think that the citizens or even the council can thoroughly grasp the unfairness with which our firemen are treated. They are one and all on duty 24 hours a day and are paid a salary of $80 per month, which is not a large sum of money. Their own clothes which they wear all the time, besides clothes to be used for the city's benefit in fighting fires. Our fire ladders are not provided for them. They are not allowed to turn out at nights in and fight fire. There is hardly a fire, however small, but some one or more members of the department spoil a suit of clothes.

Now this is not all. The other night, after the men came home from fighting a fire which threatened the safety of our city, the rain was pouring through the roof on to their beds, for which they had a hard time to find sufficient dry space to place them. There was a deep of hot water, or any means of heating it for the fire fighters to take a bath, and the whole barn of a hall was cold and cheerless for lack of a stove and a few necessities which must be given to our city protectors in order that we may maintain the present standard of our fire department, which I think I may safely say, keep down our fire loss far below any other city of its size in Canada or the States.

A Wonderful Record.

As made up by improved and exact processes Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting all displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, and all painful periods, tuning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. It cures the headache, periodical headaches, the dragging-down distress in the pelvic region, the pain and tenderness over the abdominal region, the irregular pelvic catarrhal drain, so disagreeable and weakening, and overcomes every form of weakness incident to the organs distinctly feminine.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, the name of which are not afraid to print their formula on the bottle wrapper, thus taking their patrons into their full confidence. It is the only medicine for women, every ingredient of which has the strongest possible endorsement of the most eminent medical practitioners and writers of our day, recommending it for the diseases for which "Favorite Prescription" is used. It is the only pure medicine for women, sold through druggists, which does not contain a large percentage of alcohol so harmful in the long run, especially to delicate women. It has more genuine cures to its credit than all other medicines for women combined, having been used by thousands of women, operating tables and the surgery of homes by the aid of little ones to strengthen the marital bonds and add sunshine where gloom and despondency had reigned before.

SHIPPING NEWS

Steamer Twickenham will conclude discharging her sugar cargo tonight at Esquimalt and is expected to enter the dry dock tomorrow to be surveyed and repaired. The Twickenham was insured only against total loss by her owners and other than with regard to the damage caused by the floating of the steamer the cost of repairs will have to be borne by the owners of the vessel. While the total amount of work necessary to the steamer will not be apparent until the vessel has been hauled out, it is understood that over $25,000 will be expended to put the vessel in seaworthy condition. The amount of sugar lost because of the stranding is placed at 1,400 tons, valued at $70,000.

The pilotage board at Vancouver met on Friday to consider the stranding of the steamer, which was in charge of Capt. Reardon, a Vancouver pilot at the time of the accident. The action taken by the board in the matter was not made public. In this connection the Vancouver Province says:

"For the first time in the history of the local pilotage organization the commissioners yesterday afternoon held a meeting in this city at which they agreed among themselves to keep the result of their proceedings from the public."

"When official announcement of the result of the deliberations of the commissioners in the case of Pilot J. R. Reardon, who was on the bridge of the steamer Twickenham when she ran ashore on San Juan Island several weeks ago, was applied for today, Commissioner Major declared that it had been decided that no statement should be given out. In all previous similar cases of inquiry a statement has been issued."

"In the absence of any statement, what occurred at the meeting is problematical, but it is known that Pilot Reardon has not been suspended, and that he is on duty again."

"The reluctance of the pilot commissioners to inform the shipping interests concerning the inquiry of yesterday is a matter of some comment, as it has been generally understood that the proceedings of the board on matters affecting the port of Vancouver were never intended to be withheld from the public."

"The pilotage commissioners for Vancouver are Messrs. Frank Burnett, R. H. Alexander and G. G. Major."

DELAYED INQUIRY.

Vancouver Anxious for Investigation of Manner of Shipping Seamen.

The investigation regarding alleged shanghaiing at Vancouver has been long delayed, and the Vancouver Province is making strenuous protests in consequence. The Vancouver paper says Mr. Macpherson promised to secure an inquiry, but beyond the inquiry held by Captain Gaudin, which failed to consider the manner of conducting the shipping office, nothing was done. The Province points out that Mr. Sims, who was dismissed from the post of deputy shipping master at Vancouver, is serving at the present time as deputy shipping master at Victoria. The Province says:

"In order to secure sailors to ship at Victoria and Esquimalt, at which latter point he maintains a boarding house, Sims keeps an agent here who gathers in sailors and sends them over to the Island port. While these sailors are picked up here, ships ride at anchor in the stream in Vancouver harbor, detained because they cannot fill up their crews to what is required."

"This may be all right from the point of view of the shipping master of Victoria, but it does not fit in at all with the business of Vancouver shipping men and the owners of the ships which are held up here for days and weeks. Does Mr. Macpherson acquiesce in this sacrifice of the interests of the port he represents, or does he intend to consider the matter and serve the people who elected him and bring on an inquiry which will shake up the local shipping office and make time of stress of weather. The Grant has for a long time lined around the Sound on about one-fourth of her rated power. It has been positively dangerous for her engineer to send the steam gauge above about a fourth of the pressure, which her boilers stood when she was first brought to the Sound. The Grant's plates have become some thin in spots, and the officers of the old cutter have felt for years that they were taking their lives in their hands every time she went to sea."

A LENGTHY RACE.

Steamer Sikh, Once an Oriental Liner, in a 12,000-Mile Contest.

The steamer Sikh, which at one time ran between the Orient and this port, under charter to Ordwell & Co. has just taken part in a race that was long and even, covering more than 12,000 miles, between the Orient and New York. The race has shown with what exactitude the relative powers of scientific seamanship can make headway against the mightier powers of weather and tides. The race lasted for nearly two months and the rival ships alternated in the advantage. At Suez the German ship Trifels was one hour ahead in entering the canal, but at the harbor of Algiers the British Mogul liner Sikh was four hours in the lead. There both vessels coaled, and in sailing for this country they were three hours apart. The Trifels was twelve hours ahead in reaching Boston. Both ships discharged a part of their cargo there and then proceeded to New York, where only a few hours marked the difference in time of the rivals at their piers.

"MAEDCHEN."

Why Captain Kaak of the Ship Lisbeth Was Jubilant Yesterday.

Capt. Kaak of the German ship Lisbeth, which is lying in Royal Roads, was wearing a happy smile yesterday. He was very happy. To those who inquired regarding the cause of his merriment he showed a cablegram with the one word, "Maedchen."

"Well what is it in that to make you happy?" someone asked.

"It is a code?" said another.

"No," said the jubilant captain, it's Maedchen, that's all, and Maedchen is good news.

"What is it?—the name of a new ship?"

"No," said Capt. Kaak, it's Maedchen, and Maedchen means 'girl.' You see the cablegram says 'It's a girl, and the mother is well.'"

The glad news came from Hamburg, whence Mrs. Kaak cabled the glad news that a baby girl had been born.

HALIBUT TRAWLERS.

A controversy is being waged in Shipping Illustrated regarding trawling for Halibut, and a Vancouver man writes as follows in favor of the steam trawling in British Columbia: I notice by reports from British Columbia that there seems to be a prejudice against the halibut caught by the trawl. This is unreasonable. The trawler brings fish to market in better condition than do the dory steamers, and for this reason: Say the dories put out their gear first thing in the morning. If they are on good ground, and fish plenty, some days they will fill up before the half a skate of gear. The steamer sees a dory is full, and takes that fish on board. Well, that fish lies there in the sun all day. The men don't begin to clean fish and put them away on ice until dark, when all the dories are on board, and the first fish taken on board in the morning are the last to go below at night. On the trawler, on the other hand, they drag, say an hour, maybe two. The fish are then promptly cleaned and packed in ice before the next haul is made, and there is no chance for them to spoil by lying in the sun all day. They go to market in a better condition, sure thing.

The trawler "Celestial Empire," Captain Johnson, has been doing very satisfactory on this coast, often landing 10,000 pounds of halibut for a week's work. She is a good sea boat, too, and rode out a heavy gale a few days ago like a duck, while the "New England" and "Manhattan" ran for a harbor.

Your friends in Halifax, N. S., will see at the exhibition there this fall, I am informed, a model of a steam trawler, and doubtless a great many people will be curious to learn how it works. An account was published in Shipping Illustrated some time ago, but the comparison to a wedge was rather misleading. The idea of a kite would have been better. The net is put over the steamer's side, each end being shackled to an anchor, which is a strongly bolted and iron-bound woodwork, about 10x4 feet. These otters are then lowered away, and the steamer goes ahead full speed. The warps 2 1/2 inch wire hawsers are attached to the otters by an iron frame adjusted on the same principle as a line is made fast to a kite. When a boy runs with his kite it goes up, when the steamer goes through the water the action forces the otters apart, and stretches out the net as it drags along the bottom.

The editor writes: The objection to halibut caught by a trawl instead of with hand lines is said by some to be more of a scientific character than that referred to by our correspondent, the idea being that the trawl seizes in all kinds of fish, healthy or otherwise, while only healthy fish would take bait. Whatever basis for truth there may be in this is a matter for the experts to investigate.

ALMOST COLLIDED.

According to advices from Alaska, the steamer Ohio narrowly missed colliding with an unidentified vessel off Cape Flattery on the last voyage out says the Tacoma Ledger. Upon arrival at Nome, Captain Warner reported that a steamer, thought to be the Empress liner, crosses the bow of the Ohio at full speed in a fog, showing no lights and blowing no fog horn. When the oncoming vessel was seen the engines of the Ohio were stopped just in time to prevent a collision, as the other steamer passed within a few feet of her.

THE PRINCESS MAY.

Returned Yesterday Morning From Skagway and Way Ports.

Steamer Princess May reached port yesterday morning from Skagway, and other northern ports with a fair complement of passengers. The majority of whom debarked at Vancouver. Included among the passengers was Mr. Richardson, boiler inspector. There were a large number of Japanese deck passengers, fishermen returning from the Skeena river. The Princess May brought news that the water is falling rapidly in the Yukon and the season of navigation is near at an end.

THE ALGOA BAY HERE.

Will Moor at the Ocean Dock This Morning to Discharge.

The Peruvian ship Algoa Bay which when last here was flying the British flag, arrived in port yesterday morning, 78 days from Iquique with a cargo of 1,400 tons of nitrate for the Victoria Chemical and the Powder company at Departure bay. The ship had a slow passage, encountering many calms until Friday last when a heavy storm was encountered during which the ship lost her fore top gallant mast and was severely buffeted.

MARINE NOTES.

The steamer Tordenskjold, reported chartered by the Western Fuel Co. to carry coal between Nagaimo and San Francisco, arrived at the Golden Gate on Friday from Muroran, Japan.

The steamer Blackheath, belonging to the same owners as the Twickenham, arrived in Royal Roads Saturday in ballast from Muroran. The steamer Cheswick of the same company, left Honolulu on August 29th and reached Port Townsend on Sunday. The Dutch vessel is en route from Port Rico.

The British ship Blythwood is 35 days out from Hongkong, China, for Royal Roads.

The British steamer Chelmsford another of the Watts' steamers, is en route from Japan to the Straits. Lieutenant Commander H. P. Norton, U. S. N., of the Bureau of Steam Engineering, has been assigned to duty on the turbine engines. This assignment is in connection with the work of preparing the plans for the new 20,000-ton battleship, as the question of fitting turbine machinery on the vessel will surely come up when the plans are presented to congress, and the department must then be in a position to answer all inquiries on that score. Lieutenant Commander Norton will be accompanied by a draughtsman, and it is hoped that from his report something positive will be known as to the actual cost of running turbines as compared with reciprocating engines.

Commodore Stewart, of the C. P. R. Atlantic fleet of steamships, who was appointed in command of the "Empress of Britain" when the steamer was launched, has been superannuated with a pension. Captain Carr, formerly of the "Lake Montserrat," has been appointed to command the "Empress of Britain," steps up to the position of commodore. Commodore Stewart has a unique record on the St. Lawrence, having never lost a ship or a passenger during the 37 years he was plying to and from Montreal.
